This Feng Shui Almanac is dedicated to my clients and to people who believe in ancient Chinese wisdom and the correct timing for important events.

The Almanac uses complex calculations, based on ancient Chinese calendar formulas, to determine suitable times for conducting the important events in our life.

In ancient times, hunting and fishing were important for survival. You may see ‘Good for hunting, fishing’ in certain days throughout the book. In modern days, ‘hunting, fishing’ refers to working.

To protect the environment and animals, I do not recommend recreational hunting or fishing.

About 2024 — The 甲辰(Jia Chen) Wood Dragon Year

Welcome to 2024, the year of the Wood Dragon. Dragon is the 5th sign of Chinese Zodiac. Why do we call it Wood Dragon? Because based on the Chinese traditional calendar, we record the day by using elements. The heavenly stem of the year is Jia (Yang Wood), the earthly branch of the year is Chen (Yang Earth), referring to Dragon. Therefore 2024 is a Wood Dragon year.

Newborn babies:

The 2024 Dragon year starts on the 4th February 2024. It is the day of Li Chun (立春), Beginning of Spring. The Chinese Astrological Year begins on the 4th or the day before or after 4th February every year. Many people have mistaken Chinese New Years day as the beginning of the astrological year. Chinese Lunar New Year is on the first day of the first lunar month of the year. It is sometimes before the 4th Feb, sometimes after the 4th Feb. In 2024, the Lunar New Year is on the 10th February, it's after the Li Chun. Babies born from 4th Feb 2023 onwards are Dragon year babies.

立春八字 (Li Chun Ba Zi):

| 辰 Earth | 寅 Wood | 辰 Earth | 申 Metal |

About 2024 — The Wood Dragon Year

2024 is a year of change for everyone. We are not only starting the Dragon year, but also starting the Fire period for the next twenty years. The Chinese astrology of 2024 shows some new light for the future. It's a mixture of darkness and brightness.

2024 is a year of Wood Dragon. From the 立春 Li Chun Bazi: the year elements are wood over earth (yang); the month elements are fire over wood (yang); the day elements are earth over earth (yang); the hour elements are double metal (yang). This year has eight yang elements. Under the influence of full Yang, the elements are strong in fire and earth. Nature and people will be unbalanced, lacking yin energy, the year will see more outbursts, masculinity, hard on clash, and men fighting with men. Everything will be more unpredictable. Good female leaders will be helpful this year.

In Chinese culture, Dragons are often associated with the emperor, power, and authority. Dragon is one of the auspicious signs, and in a Dragon year more babies are often born. The nature of the Dragon is energetic, ambitious and adventurous. They also have strong sense of justice and fairness. Dragon people can also be impulsive, stubborn, and prone to anger. However, with their determination and perseverance, Dragons can overcome most obstacles and achieve their goals.

Dragon is one of the Graves and Storages in the Chinese Zodiac. That means the element of the Dragon is earth on the surface, it carries a few other elements inside, water, wood and earth.

From the element aspect: the day master is yang earth. Although it is a Wood Dragon year, the earth element is destroyed by wood, the day master is weak. At the beginning of the year the wood element will be prosperous. Wood is the power element in 2024, which indicates that people or countries will be eager to gain more power and control without enough planning, leading to wars and aggression toward other countries and people. From the middle of the year, the fire energy will rise. Fire represents thinking, inspiration, transformation in the year, meaning that people may come to their senses and make positive changes.

From the star aspect: the ruling star of the year is 3. Star 3 in the current period represents conflict, anger, fighting, lawsuits. It is a wood conquers earth formation. The year ahead can have more disharmony in households.

About 2024 — The Wood Dragon Year

The lucky elements for 2024 are: earth, metal and water. These elements will bring balance to the year. Earth relates to the earth beneath us, it also relates to personal growth and strength. We need to pay more attention and work on these areas.

Metal relates to metal objects, in a life aspect it relates to hard work, creativity and action for this year. Water relates to actual water, and also relates to wealth. This year we need to pay more attention to review and manage our finances.

From an economic aspect: the economy will be up and down. Inflation will continue to spike. Industries relating to heart, body and soul, general health, AI, childcare, education, and social media will do well.

From a health aspect: sicknesses will relate to digestive systems, heart, eyes, mental health and the body circulation system.

In general, it is another year for us to focus on our health and wellbeing. Take the chance to improve yourself. Plan carefully before acting. Look after yourself and your family.

Stay safe and be prosperous!

About the Almanac

This Almanac is a combination of three calendars: the solar calendar, lunar calendar and Xia or Farmers calendar (for Chinese astrology, feng shui use). This almanac is an English version of Chinese Tong Shu 通书 (General Book).

Most people are familiar with solar and lunar calendars, but not the Xia 夏历 calendar. The Xia calendar is derived from the ten heavenly stems and twelve earthly branches.

In ancient China, our ancestors developed a Stem and Branch recording method called 干支纪法 (gan zhi ji fa ). Heaven is the main ruler, earth obeys heaven. Therefore, heaven follows the trunk/stem called 天干 (Tian Gan) – heavenly stem; earth follows the branches called 地支 (Di Zhi) – earthly branches.

The ancient Chinese arranged the 10 heavenly stems and 12 earthly branches into sixty pairs. 30 yang pairs and 30 yin pairs. It called sixty 甲子 jia zi. The calendar repeats every sixty years. Ancient masters followed the force of the nature and yin yang philosophy. They developed a series of formulas to define good or bad times for daily activities.

Tong Shu is a book which follows these formulas to calculate lucky dates and lucky times for major events, such as: engagements, weddings, earth moving (starting to build or renovate a property), burials, trade, opening a well, opening ceremonies (officially starting a new business), and decluttering (getting rid of bad energy).

Choosing a lucky day to conduct a major event will enhance the success of the event.

Basic Knowledge

The ancient Chinese believed that everything in the universe was made from five elements: metal, water, wood, fire and earth.

The productive cycle of the five elements is: wood supports fire, fire supports earth, earth supports metal, metal supports water, water supports wood.

The destructive cycle of the five elements is: metal cuts wood, wood destroys earth, earth destroys water, water destroys fire, fire destroys metal.

The interactions of the five elements create the natural forces and changes in the universe and human destiny.

Basic Knowledge

The 阴Yin 阳Yang Philosophy:

Yin Yang is the principle of dualism which underpins all Chinese beliefs. Yin and yang are the negative and positive principles which together symbolise perfect harmony.

The symbols of yin and yang are believed to constitute the Dao (道). The eternal principle of heaven and earth; life and death; the sun and the moon, one unable to have meaning without the other. Yin and yang depend on each other, and together they give meaning to the existence of mankind. Inside yang there is a bit of yin, and inside yin there is a bit of yang.

Thus, without dark (yin), there can be no light (yang); without hot (yang), there is no cold (yin); without day (yang) there can be no night (yin), and without stillness (yin), there can be no movement (yang). Yin and yang continually interact, thereby creating changes.

In the Chinese calendar, every element is either yin or yang.
